Medieval Astrology Profile for Dennis Nilsen

File History: Initial 21-Sep-2015; Tables Revised 6-Jun-2016

Introduction to delineation of appearance and character in natal astrology. The following document is a hand-written analysis of Dennis Nilsen, using the principles of medieval predictive astrology. The discipline of natal astrology focuses on the fate of an individual based on a horoscope cast for the moment of birth. Within natal astrology, the 1st house occupying the eastern horizon at birth describes the native: physical vitality, appearance, and character. Between the Hellenistic and Medieval eras several specialized models were developed to assess these characteristics. They include longevity (vitality and length of life), physiognomy (form and shape of the face and body), victor of the chart (overall life purpose), manners (social conduct including ethical behavior), and temperament (elemental mix of fire, earth, air, and water with applications in medical astrology). Prior research has presented models and results for longevity (A Rectification Manual: The American Presidency, Chapter 4) and physiognomy (Astrological Physiognomy: History and Sources & Astrological Physiognomy: Empirical Tests of the Leo Rising Decan).

Victor of the Chart. Included are two competing models for computing the victor of the chart said to be the single most powerful planet in the horoscope. According to Plato's follower Porphyry, by configuration in the natal horoscope the planet signifying the victor of the chart shows the life choice made by the soul prior to incarnation. Plato explains the details of his soul model in The Myth of Er found in the closing pages of his work The Republic. Porphyry and his peer Antiochus offer specific rules for determining the victor of the chart. The method of Antiochus/Porphyry is compared to a later method for determining the victor suggested by the Jewish Rabbi Abraham ben Meir ibn Ezra, a philosopher and astrologer active in the 12th century. For a discussion of these two models, see the companion paper Victor of the Chart: Testing Methods of Antiochus/Porphyry and Ibn Ezra, which serves as a key to what is presented here.

Manners. Plato was not alone among Greek philosophers in conceiving models for the soul. Aristotle's model of vegetative, sensitive, and intellective soul levels (assigned respectively to the plant, animal, and human kingdoms) was taken up by Ptolemy, who found a correspondence between the sensitive and intellective soul and Moon and Mercury in the natal horoscope. Configuration of the Moon and Mercury, with special emphasis given to their rulers, is a second method for analyzing the soul. Ptolemy introduces this model in Tetrabiblos III.13 "Of the Quality of the Soul." Subsequent authors refer to this model as "Significators of the Soul" or "Manners." A summary template for the Moon and Mercury is presented in the paper and will be further developed in future versions.

Dennis Nilsen (November 23, 1945 - living)

Nicknamed the Kindly Killer and the British Jeffrey Dahmer, Dennis Nilsen is one of Britain's most notorious serial killers. His 9-Feb-1983 arrest followed discovery of human remains blocking the drains of his apartment building. Calmly responding to police during and after arrest, he provided details of multiple murders in a dispassionate manner. His motivations triggered widespread interest by psychologists, with one of the most complete accounts given by Brian Masters in his 1985 book Killing for Company based on personal interviews.

Nilsen's parents divorced when he was a young child, subsequently spent much of his time with his maternal grandparents, and became especially close with his grandfather. Death of his grandfather from a heart attack while fishing in the North Sea devastated Nilsen. Allowed to view his grandfather's body, his mother told Dennis his grandfather was sleeping and was going to a better place. Dennis described this scene as his most vivid childhood memory and many psychologists point to this moment as a key developmental event which linked death and love in his mind as the seed of adult necrophilia.

Professionally, Nilsen spent eleven years in the Army working a cook until October 1972 when he returned to London to live with family. Nilsen discovered he was gay when a teenager but did not find an outlet for his sexuality until discovering London's thriving gay pub scene. The year 1973 was a transitional year when Nilsen trained and worked as a junior constable for the Metropolitan Police. This same year his father died and he started to actively cruise gay pubs. In early 1974 he quit the police and worked for six months as a security guard before settling into a career as a successful civil servant. Between 1974 and his arrest in 1983 he effectively led a double life.

Socially, Nilsen was a loner and found it difficult to make friends or to sustain relationships for any length of time. For 18 months he shared a flat with David Gallichan but after multiple disputes and beatings, Gallichan left in May 1977 leaving Nilsen alone. He liked to get drunk but evidence is mixed whether or not Nilsen was technically an alcoholic. Nilsen's first victim was Stephen Holmes, killed on 30-Dec-1978 whose body he stored underneath the floorboards of his flat, and eventually burned in the first of three bonfires set during the middle of the night in his backyard garden as a means to destroy bodies of murder victims killed at his flat. When flat renovations forced Nilsen to move, his new flat had no backyard so he was forced to dissect the bodies, flushing some body parts down the toilet, and setting the rest out for pickup in black plastic garbage bags. Clogged drains exposed him.

Like Jeffrey Dahmer, Nilsen's mental diagnosis included necrophilia. After killing his victims, most often by strangulation sometimes accompanied by drowning, Nilsen kept some of the bodies so he could spent time with them. On occasion he would wash the bodies, dress them, and prop them up in chairs so he could speak with them.

Astrodatabank reports a 4:00 AM birth time citing the biography by John Lisners with a 19LI12 Ascendant which places Jupiter near the Ascendant degree.

Stage I. Determine the Ascendant sign

Configuration of the Chart

While on first glance Jupiter/Libra on the Ascendant for the 4:00 AM ADB reported birth time appears a reasonable delineation match to Nilsen as the 'kindly killer,' on closer investigation Libra rising does not stack up. I suggest Scorpio rising is a better match to life affairs for the following reasons:

- Venus/Scorpio in the proposed Ascendant sign matches Nilsen's profession as a cook. Venus received by Mars/Leo/10th adds a military connection to his job so he in fact works as a cook for the army.

- Moon/Cancer conjunct Saturn/Cancer amplified by the North Node is placed in the 9th by whole sign houses or in the 8th house by quadrant houses with the North Node within a degree of the 8th cusp. As confirmed by Jeffrey Dahmer's nativity, the 8th cusp is the location where the half-alive – half-dead are found. The Moon/Cancer's need to care and Saturn/Cancer' drowning/melancholy are the appropriate significators for Nilsen's necrophilia because dead victims he can't easily let go of are appropriately found near the 8th cusp which is assigned to the entrance of the Gates of Hell according to the Hellenistic tradition.

Stage II.

Stage III. Determine the exact Degree and Minute of the Ascendant

Solar Arc Directions

I consider this a trial rectification because natal Mercury/Sagittarius is placed in the sign of detriment and promises some difficulty in the rectification process. Nilsen admitted to exaggerating the number of his murder victims, consistent with the ability of Mercury/Sagittarius to make false witness and tell 'tall tales.' As such, a final rectification of this nativity based on Nilsen's own testimony may not be possible.

I suggest three sets of measurements as the strongest evidence in favor of the rectification. It may be that some other combination of these measurements, perhaps using primary directions, will prove a better fit. Essentially the flow is this: (1) Sun rises and his grandfather dies, (2) Mercury rises and he begins to cruise for sex and companionship in the London gay pub scene, (3) South Node rises and cruising comes to an end with his arrest and imprisonment.

3-Apr-1952. dsa ASC conj Sun

14-Feb-1973. dsa ASC conj Mercury
28-May-1973. csa Mercury conj ASC
Began to cruise London gay pubs, Summer 1973.
Mercury is the significator of young men. Sagittarius delineated sexually is assigned to public and outward displays of sexual behavior ranging from cruising to exhibitionism.

Primary Directions

As a preliminary observation, the proposed rectification has the directed ASC entering the bound of Mercury/Sagittarius on 22-Dec-1978 which is eight days before Nilsen killed his first victim. If the rectification is correct, it is one piece of evidence which suggests Mercury as victor.

Victor of the Chart: Venus/Scorpio

Ibn Ezra's method favors Jupiter and Porphyry's Stage I adds Mercury, Venus, and Mars with no standout. This is a difficult case and my choice as Venus as victor has to be regarded as a tentative victor assignment. In making the victor assessment for Nilsen, I recall similar ambiguity for Jeffrey Dahmer's horoscope. For Dahmer, even though Mercury described his victims and was an active time lord at the time of killings, ultimately I selected Mars/Aries/7th for Dahmer based on the traditional delineation of Mars in the 7th as a rapist. Also of interest for Dahmer was Venus/Taurus/8th cusp as the significator for necrophilia. For Nilsen, Mercury also described his victims (young men) and well as timing his gay cruising by solar arc direction, primary direction (directing through the bounds), and Firdaria; Mercury/Sagittarius also rules the 8th house by whole signs (house of necrophila). Finally note that Mercury is conjunct the fixed star Ras Alhague, "head of the serpent charmer" associated with perversion and depravity. So Mercury is not a bad choice for Nilsen's victor.

Compared to Mercury with 4 scores in Porphyry's Stage I expanded criteria, Venus has 3 scores and is also conjunct a fixed star that I have found connected to criminal activity: Venus is conjunct Zuben Elegenubi, "the southern claw of the Scorpio" which is a malevolent fixed star of the nature of Saturn and Mars. By body count, the majority of Nilsen's victims were killed during a Mars-Venus Firdaria subperiod (7) though the Mars-Mercury subperiod has the second highest victim count (4). Venus is angular in the Ascendant, received by Mars in the 10th, and timed Nilsen's most significant public recognition of his criminal activities by primary direction in 1993 on the airing of the Central Television series.

While Jupiter scores well as a potential victor, I relegate Jupiter/Libra to manners – this is the 'kindly' part of the 'kindly killer.'

Manners: Jupiter/Libra
